Over the weekend I put CF Debug Copy for IE up on RIAForge. I hadn't posted this to RIAForge before because I had plans to investigate building the windows installer using WiX so that I could post the source along with the final .msi. Since it has been well over a year and I haven't got around to this I figured I might as well post the installer I built using Visual Studio.

CF Debug Copy for IE does the same thing as CF Debug Copy for Firefox, except it does it for IE. If you want more details check out this post or the RIAForge site.
